

... Bandit

(Continued from Page 1) reported. The gunmen then used steel wire to bind his hands and feet behind his back. CODY WRIGGLED across the station floor to a steel door and was able to attract the attention of Dale N. Key, 1657 W. 213th St., who was in a laundromat nearby. Lawrence McCarthy, 57, of 1606 Gramery Ave., told police Sunday that two men struck him in the face, knocked him down causing him to lose consciousness early Sunday. He said he was missing between $12 and $13 from his wallet when he regained his senses. The incident allegedly occurred in the 1600 block of Cabrillo Avenue.

... College

... College

(Continued from Page 1) Mayor Isen moaned. "If they can build it on 100 acres, we should be given a chance to show what we can offer to the state for 100 acres." Consensus is that the restriction of a college site with a projected of 20,000 students to 100 acres would mean a high-rise campus development. The property at Sepulveda and Slauson in the Baldwin Hills area of Los Angeles is owned by Home Savings and Loan Assn. and has been the subject of a rezoning attempt for high-rise development before the County Regional Planning Commission. Attempts of the County Parks and Recreation Department for purchase of the property to maintain the golf facilities have been fruitless, county officials report.

THE PUBLIC hearing on the Fox Hills property is scheduled before the site selection committee of the board of trustees for state colleges in Sacramento today, and a final decision on the location of the four-year college could well be made today, local officials say. Public hearings were held earlier on the Torrance and Palos Verdes sites.

Cycle-Car Collision Hurts Two

Two young men on a motorcycle suffered major injuries Tuesday in a collision between their motorcycle and a car at the Del Amo Shopping Center. Taken to Little Company of Mary Hospital was Richard Armstrong, 26, driver of the motorcycle, and his passenger, John L. Wilson, 27, of 1221 El Prado Ave., Apt. 28. Driver of the car was identified as Louis Francis Pettinato, 56, of 3225 Onrado Ave.

Interment will be held in Green Hills Memorial Park. Mr. Wells worked as a merchant marine electrician.

Ex-Torrance Officer Now Blythe Chief

Appointment of Hugh E. (Buck) Ingram, former Torrance police officer, as chief of police for the city of Blythe was announced here this week. Ingram, a member of the Blythe police department since July 17, 1961, is 38 and had been a police officer for 11 years.

"An honest, sincere, and effective police program," was pledged by Chief Ingram when appointed by the City Council of Blythe. He had been a sergeant on the Blythe force prior to his elevation to the top post. He succeeded Marvin Clemens as chief.

Ingram joined the Torrance police department as a patrolman in 1952 and later worked as a juvenile officer and as a detective sergeant before leaving here to make his home in Blythe.

"At present I anticipate making no changes in the department law enforcement or administrative policies," Ingram said at the time of his appointment.

The charity that hastens to proclaim its good deeds, ceases to be charity, and is only pride and ostentation.—William Hutton.

300 View South High Thespians

Some 300 people enjoyed three one-act plays presented in competition last Friday night at South High's first One-Act Drama Festival. The winning play, "When the Fire Dies" by Ramona Maher, was an American Indian morality play student-directed by Gina Corazza. The other two plays in the final competition were "Tichin' to Get Hitched" by Richard Henry which was a hillbilly face student-directed by Val Shidler, and "Which Is the Way to Boston?" by Ronald Lorenzen which was a New England mystery student-directed by Nancy Graef.

SEMI-FINAL competition, held Wednesday and Thursday, included "The Laughing Ghost" by Le Rema Groth which was student-directed by Sue Frantik, and "Tell Dorie Not to Cry" by Guernsey Le Pelley which was student-directed by Judi Tremaine. Dramatics instructor, Marlan C. Muse, announced the winning play will be presented in the Long Beach State College Drama Festival to be held March 29.

Sponsored by Thespian Troupe 211, the festival has involved some 40 student actors for the past month, according to their actual dramatic experience. The plays, chosen by the Thespians, were open to all South High Students who wished to read for parts.

EMPHASIS WAS placed on building dramatic ability through interpretation of character rather than stressing set construction. "It was our intention to provide as many students as possible a valuable learning experience in drama," said Mrs. Gwen Sengpiel, South High Thespian sponsor. "We have been pleased with the student and parent interest in the program."

In an effort to promote dramatic growth among the players, Friday's final competition judges, Friday's final competition judges, Howard Bank, El Camino College; Von Hersey and Robert Spohnheim, South High; held a critique for the cast after the performance.

Local Bank of America Names Contest Winners

Winners of the Satellite Sweepstakes Contest held in conjunction with the opening of Bank of America's new Lomita-South Torrance branch, 25435 Crenshaw Blvd. by Vincent A. Bauchiero, manager of the branch. Tying for the top $50 prize were Charles J. Levin of 1615 Lomita Blvd., Harbor City, and John Kowitz, 2706 Loftyview Drive., both of whom missed the figure by only one. In a deadlock for the $25 second place award were Maurice V. Richardson, 27 Shady Vista Road, Rolling Hills Estates, and Carl Spurgeon, 2323 Evans Court., omia. Visitors to the building during the first two weeks after its Feb. 11 opening were challenged to guess the number of simulated grains of stardust in a model satellite on display in the branch lobby. Those coming closest to the exact figure were winners, and prizes consisted of savings accounts at the branch.

City Juvenile Chief To Lead State Panel
